Overview:This is an extraordinary possibility to acquire a quirky, classic, high quality and large village townhouse with old school patio area with BBQ and built in seating. Not only, does this main house have a total of 7 bedrooms. The top floor is like a separate apartment as on that level you have a real large bedroom with terrace and own bathroom. On the first level 4 bedrooms and a bathroom to share, all of considerable size and 3 of them have built in wardrobes. Some parts of the house need some renovation and I would suggest changing the kitchen and the bathrooms, but this is so much house, it could be incredible. Lower level of the main house has got the entrance hallway, living/dining area (from here you can walk out onto the patio), living room with large fireplace. Off the lounge you find a real spacious kitchen and a laundry room. Also there is another bedroom and bathroom on this lower groundfloor level. Now there is more! In the patio there are stairs up to another large complete separate bedroom with wardrobe and bathroom. Lots of options here, also if you are a constructor you could tier the house down and built a large block, ask for more information if you have become as excited as I have after seeing this property published and for that price, contact us now!
