Element: Nice semi-detached house in Coín. This property belongs to a group of neighbouring houses in the countryside. Located in a very quiet area with nice views and very close to the Marbella-Málaga road, the property is distributed as follows: On entering we find a spacious patio with barbecue and which gives access to the main house. The house comprises on the ground floor of a living room, bathroom with shower, and a fully fitted kitchen with dining area, leading to a patio with utility room. Upstairs there are three bedrooms, a WC and a south facing terrace with wonderful views of the mountains and Alhaurín town. It is a very cosy, bright and renovated property. Next to it is an old smaller house, currently used as storage, so would be ideal for a guest apartment, for a rental income, or a summer kitchen with recreational area.
